DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 7 is pending in this application.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 7/24/2007 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

3. In the amendment filed on 4/25/2007, claim 7 has been amended. The currently pending claim considered below is Claim 7.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422

Art Unit: 2168

F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 7 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,658,589. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because: Claim 1 of US Patent 6,658,589 B1 contains every element of claim 7 of the instant application and as such anticipates claim 7 of the instant application.

"A later patent claim is not patentably distinct from an earlier patent claim if the later claim is obvious over, or anticipated by, the earlier claim. In re Longi, 759 F.2d at 896, 225 USPQ at 651 (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting because the claims at issue were obvious over claims in four prior art patents); In re Berg, 140 F.3d at 1437, 46 USPQ2d at 1233 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (affirming a holding of obviousness-type double patenting where a patent application claim to a genus is anticipated by a patent claim to a species within that genus). " ELI LILLY AND COMPANY v BARR LABORATORIES, INC., United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, ON PETITION FOR REHEARING EN BANC (DECIDED: May 30, 2001).

This is an obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Crowe et al.
(US Patent 5,970,488)

As per claim 7, Crowe teaches "In a computer system having a plurality of nodes, each node having access to a shared database and also having local storage,"
(Figure 1 and column 3 lines 49-65) "a method of performing a backup operation to backup said shared database" (column 4 lines 47-65)

"providing a local redo log in local storage for said node, said node including information regarding data in said shared database;" (column 4 lines 28-46 and column 10 line 63 – column 11 line 6, wherein an updated record list is stored in each node regarding backup and update information)

"selecting at least one node of said plurality of nodes to perform said backup operation to backup said information regarding data in said shared database included in said node;" (column 11 lines 7-18 and column 12 lines 16-28, wherein a node is selected to copy database information)

"obtaining information regarding a directory location of said local redo log for said at least one node;" (column 37-45 and column 11 lines 19-27, wherein the updated table list is used to identify modified tables)

"setting said local redo log to be read/write accessible by said selected at least one node;" (column 9 lines 28-44 and column 11 lines 27-39, wherein the update table list is read/write accessible)

"and backing up data in said shared database by accessing data in said shared database and also in said local redo log to provide backup data." (column 11 lines 53-65 and column 53-63, wherein data from a database is written to another node)

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Filing of a Request for Continued Examination and amendments to the claim necessitated new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
